SUFFRAGETTE PRISONERS PLEAD NOT GUILTY.

All Promise to Refrain from Militancy Pending Trial.

Another Bomb Discovered Outside National Gallery in London.

LONDON, May 15.—Six militant suffragette leaders and a male adherent of the cause were committed today by Henry Curtis Bennett, the magistrate at Bow Street police court, to trial at the Old Bailey sessions, on charges of conspiracy under the malicious damage to property act. All of them pleaded "not guilty" and reserved their defense. Bail was allowed on the prisoners promising to refrain from all participation in militancy, pending their trial.

A suffragette "bomb" was found during the night outside the National Gallery, which contains valuable art treasures and is in the very centre of London, on Trafalgar Square. The machine consisted of a tin can filled with live cartridges wrapped in a copy of "The Suffragette." It was labelled "Pills to break the windows of the National Gallery." There was no mechanism or detonators connected with the explosives and the "bomb" was therefore like many previous ones, quite harmless.

Henry Curtis Bennett, the magistrate at Bow Street police court, who conducted the hearings of the charge against the militant suffragette leaders of conspiracy under the malicious damage to property act, is the latest public man for whose protection against outrage detectives have been assigned by the police authorities at Scotland Yard. He is accompanied every day to and from the court by two officers in plain clothes, as threats have been uttered against him.

The militant suffragette "roll of honor," entitled the "crimes record book," created profound interest when it was produced at Bow Street police court during today's proceedings against the suffragette leaders. Miss Harriet Rebecca Kerr, Miss Alice Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney, Miss Laura Lennox and the analytical chemist, Clayton, again occupied the prisoners' enclosure.

Particulars of some 1,400 convictions for suffragette outrages, in which 464 persons were concerned, were entered in the list exhibited, which was accompanied by receipts for money paid to some of the perpetrators.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst's conviction, on the charge of inciting others to commit the bomb outrage which destroyed Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George's country house at Walton Heath, was among the entries, as well as all sorts of trivial disturbances arising from deputations of women to the Houses of Parliament.

A comprehensive form was provided for the signatures of those seeking to have their record entered in the "crimes record book." It called for the name, prison, date of arrest, date of committal for trial, results of the trial, where imprisoned, date of release, reason for release, "did you hunger strike?" if so, how long, and date of previous imprisonments. Attached to some of the forms were receipts for medals, illuminated addresses and brooches.

UNUSUAL ROUTE OF MARCH.

Training Station Boys Pass Through Streets Unknown to Parades.

This was not so pleasant an afternoon for the practice march as the Training Station boys had had the two previous weeks, for it was a little chilly. While not so cold but the marchers warmed up, they felt the chill if halted too long. The route of march, while most unusual, was a success, for it carried the boys through streets where memory fails to remember a parade has passed before, and as the stay-at-homes and the shut-ins had something new in life. The route lay through Third, Walnut, Farewell and Warner streets to Malbone road; Broadway, Bull, Brinley and Catherine streets to Rhode Island avenue; Bath road, Bellevue avenue, Pelham and Thames streets, and these home as they came. There were two battalions of infantry and two batteries of field artillery.

Lieutenat Morrison was in command. The first battalion comprised the band, five companies of infantry and the artillery; the second battalion, four companies of infantry and the hospital corps. The boys were in "all white." On the march, as usual, various movements were executed.

REGRET HIS DEPARTURE.

Mr. Pritchard's Post and Church Associates Take Formal Action.

At the meeting of Lawton-Warren Post, G. A. R., Wednesday evening Comrade George A. Pritchard took his leave of the comrades with whom he has been associated since 1883. The post formally adopted a letter of regret at his departure, and it was given the comrade to take away with him. While a member of the post he has been a faithful worker, and he will be greatly missed. After the meeting there was an individual leave taking.

At the same time the United Congregational Church took action by voting that a resolution be spread upon its records relative to the departure from Newport of Mr. Pritchard, one of its members, who early connected himself with the church and has since been an energetic worker. The resolution speaks of the many duties he has performed, having been leader of the choir, secretary of the corporation deacon, treasurer of the board of deacons, member of the church committee, and for 40 years having served wherever he could. In conclusion the resolution speaks of the deep appreciation of the church for what he has done and pledges its continued affection for him, with a pleasant wish for his remaining days. Mr. Pritchard will leave tonight to make his home with his son.

PLANS FOR AN APPEAL.

Quinlan Faces Seven Years' Sentence and Fine of $2,000.

PATERSON, N. J., May 15.—Relations between the city and county authorities and the striking silk mill workers, strained at all times since the start of the strike two months ago, were made more acute today by the fact of the conviction yesterday, on the charge of inciting riot, of Patrick Quinlan, Industrial Worker of the World leader. Quinlan will be sentenced probably tomorrow, and faces a maximum penalty of seven years in prison and a fine of $2,000. He is perhaps the most conspicuous leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, ever convicted of a similar or kindred offence in the country.

The jury in Quinlan's first trial failed to reach a verdict. The jury yesterday was out only two hours; it found Quinlan guilty of inciting to riot. Quinlan was not present when the verdict was announced. His counsel promised, however, to have his client in court on whatever date is fixed for sentence, as the convicted leader is still under $7,500 bond. Judge Gebert said he would not issue a bench warrant for his arrest.

There are two more indictments pending against Quinlan, charging inciting to riot and preaching anarchy. Counsel announced that an appeal from yesterday's verdict will be taken, which will act as a stay in carrying out whatever sentence the court may impose; the penalty being from one to seven years in prison.

Carlo Treska and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, both to be tried on similar charges, in speaking of the Quinlan verdict declared that it was a "class verdict." Treska declared that the verdict would serve to bring the silk mill strikers closer together to continue the strike. Miss Flynn said the case would be appealed to the highest courts before "we will give in."

Quinlan will not be placed on trial on either of the other indictments for at least two weeks, nor will the others indicted with him be tried within that time, Prosecutor Dunn said.

Four other leaders of the organization are to be tried for inciting riot. They are, besides Elizabeth Gurley Flynn and Carlo Treska, "Big Bill" Haywood and Adelph H. Lessig. According to present plans of the prosecutor, the next defendant to face the bar will be Treska. His trial will start a week from Monday.

Announcement was made by the strikers today that there will be a monster demonstration late today at Lafayette Oval, with Quinlan as the leading speaker. Joseph Ettor, who is marshaling the striking barbers in New York, also was billed as a speaker, together with Haywood and Miss Flynn.

Department of Commerce to Investigate Shoe and Leather Trade.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Thorough investigation of the shoe and leather industry in the United States in comparison with similar industries in European countries is to be undertaken by the Department of Commerce. The inquiry will be made by Arthur B. Butman, a commercial agent of the department, who has just returned to this country after two years spent in Europe investigating the principal shoe and leather manufacturing plants of various foreign countries.

Secretary Redfield announced today that Mr. Butman would be dispatched at once to begin the investigation, in addition to looking into the industries in the manufacturing centres of New England, Mr. Butman also will visit New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and other large cities. A number of reports by Mr. Butman on the results of his inquiry in the foreign manufacturing situation already have been printed and distributed through the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

WILSON TO CONFER WITH BRYAN ON LAND BILL.

Will Reply to Formal Protest Entered by Japan.

Government's Attitude Against the Measure to be Fully Determined.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—President Wilson has arranged to confer with Secretary Bryan early tomorrow, before the cabinet meeting, to draft a reply to the formal protest by Japan against the California anti-alien land bill, which Governor Johnson has announced that he will sign. The note will be submitted to the cabinet and then delivered to the Japanese ambassador. Indications are that the attitude of the federal government toward the legislation itself, as well as questions of discrimination raised by Japan, will be fully defined.

Governor Johnson's decision to sign the California anti-alien land bill, despite Japan's protest, was unofficially communicated today to Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, as a matter of information, with the understanding that Secretary Bryan may later present Governor Johnson's answer officially, with such comment as he may wish to make in behalf of the federal government.

Mr. Bryan is in New York and in his absence the subject will be considered by Counsellor Moore to have it ready for the Secretary to lay before the cabinet at tomorrow's session, when an effort may be made to reach a final determination on the line of policy for the negotiations with Japan.

When the ambassador receives Secretary Bryan's formal communication it will be necessary for him to communicate it to the foreign office at Tokio and receive instruction and a rejoinder, so that probably a week will elapse before the negotiations can move another step. Interest has been excited by Governor Johnson's quotation of that part of the California law which appears to limit his action, so far as it recognizes Japan's rights to the existing treaty of 1911, and there is some speculation as to whether that was intended to foreshadow a refusal on the part of the California authorities to be bound by the stipulation of any treaty that may hereafter be negotiated between the United States and Japan that would appear to be in conflict with the provisions of the new law.

Officials here fail to discover any point not suggested to Secretary Bryan when he was in Sacramento, with the probable exception of reference to the fact that the present state constitution in terms sanctions and even requires the enactment of such legislation as the Webb act.

The fact that, though announcing his intention to sign the act, Governor Johnson has not actually affixed his signature is regarded here as an act of courtesy, intended to hold the door open to a last word from the administration if it should desire to communicate with him further, before the final act of approval.

OFFICIAL INQUIRY POSSIBLE.

Frequent Explosions of Dynamite in Pittsburgh to be Investigated.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 15.—Frequent explosions of dynamite and powder within the past week in Western Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia, and attempts to explode heavily-filled magazines, is causing anxiety and an official investigation as a possibility. Since last Saturday close to a dozen persons have been killed, scores have been injured, some fatally, much property has been ruined and hundreds of people have been so alarmed that they have fled the vicinity.

The series of explosions began last Saturday, when 60 sticks of dynamite in the magazine of the Sunshine Coal and Coke Company mine near Masontown, Pa., "let go," resulting in the death of four and the injury of two score. Yesterday there were explosions of 1,700 pounds of dynamite and 70 kegs of powder stored in the magazine of the Consolidated Coal Company at Eckhart, Md., in which three were killed an da dozen injured, and between these dates there were several explosions in the three states.

Last Monday a track walker found nine sticks of dynamite under the joints of the rails of the Monongahela railroad at Leckrone. A jar would have exploded the dynamite. Within 75 yards of the railroad was located the plant of the Cameron Powder Company containing 20,000 pounds of powder and 500 pounds of dynamite.

In a premature explosion at Parkersburg, Tuesday, five men were blown into a stream while fishing. One was drowned and the other four rescued unconscious. Last night a miner's cottage at Colliers, W. Va., was blown to atoms by the explosion of a keg of powder. One man was killed and three seriously hurt.

NEW LIGHTS IN POSITION.

Boulevard Electrics Supplant Gasoline on Malbone and Girard Avenues.

It was a mistake to state that no light was to be placed on the boat landing at Gladding's pier at the south end of Washington street. It is true the arc light shines there so that another light did not seem necessary, but one is there now, having been placed this morning. On the light question, also, it may be stated that the new boulevard electric lights have supplanted the gasoline lamps on Malbone and Girard avenues, and Mr. Martin, who has been feeding the gasoline lights, is glad that he need not go there any more; so are the people who use the road, for they now have some light. The lights on Carroll avenue are expected to go in next, and the new line across to the creek in the rear of the beach will come in for some of the lights. It is suggested that this style of light would be better for the new King park than are lights.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON TO SIGN.

California Closes Its Part of Controversy on Alien Land Bill.

SACRAMENTO, May 14.—Expressing his determination to sign the alien land bill, recently passed by the legislature, Governor Hiram W. Johnson of California has telegraphed to Secretary of State Bryan a long explanation of the action taken by the legislature. The message was in answer to the request telegraphed to the governor by Secretary Bryan at the direction of President Wilson that the bill be vetoed.

The Governor's message in part is as follows:

"Hon. William J. Bryan, Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.

"Your very courteous telegram relating to the alien land bill reached me late Sunday night. I take it from our conversations and your request made to me of withhold executive action until opportunity was accorded for the presentations from the federal government that your message embodies what it was your wish and the wish of the President, to say to use before final action.

"In this response it is my design most respectfully to present the situation from our standpoint and the views that actuated our legislature in passing the bill and that impel me to sanction it.

"For many years a very grave problem, little understood in the east, has confronted California; a problem the seriousness of which has been recognized by statesmen in our nation and has been viewed with apprehension by the people of this State. When the present constitution of California was adopted, more than 30 years ago, it contained the folowing declaration: 'The presence of foreigners ineligible to become citizens of the United States is declared to be dangerous to the well-being of the state and the legislature shall discourage their immigration by all means within its power.'

"Of late years our problem from another angle has become acute and the agitation has been continuous in the last decade in reference to our agricultural lands until finally affirmative action in an attempted solution became imperative. This attempted solution is found in the act of our legislature in the passage of the alien land bill. In the phraseology of this bill, in those whom it affects, in its scope and in its purposes, we believe we are within our legal and our moral rights and that we are doing only what is imperatively demanded for the protection and preservation of our state. In this enactment we have kept ever in mind our national good faith as evidenced by existing treaties and our desire and anxiety have been to act only in such fashion as would commend us to our sister states and would justify us to our fellow countrymen."

In conclusion Governor Johnson says: "And so, with all respect and courtesy, the state of California feels it its bound duty to citizens to do that which the interests of its people demand; that which the conscience of its people approves; that which violates no treaty rights; that which presents no discrimination and that which can give no just cause for offence.

"You have suggested to me delay, but this question was very earnestly and fully presented by you to our legislature and the legislature determined to proceed. My province is to approve or disapprove the law as presented. Our people as represented in the legislature have over-whelmingly expressed their desire for the present alien land bill. The vote in the Senate was 36 to 2 and in the assembly 72 to 3. With such unanimity of opinion, even did I hold other views, I would feel it my plain duty to sign the bill unless some absolutely controlling necessity demanded contrary action. Apparently no such controlling necessity exists.

"It is with the highest respect for yourself and the President that I feel my duty to my state compels me to approve the action of the legislature."

With the sending of the telegram the controversy over the alien land bill is at an end, so far as the California administration is concerned.

Governor Johnson has until June 6 in which to sign the act, and in the normal course of events it will become a law at the expiration of 90 days from the closing of the legislature, or August 10, next. The only contingency which might arise to check its operation from and after that date is the threatened referendum petition which Theodore A. Bell, a Democratic leader, has said he would circulate against the measure as soon as it was signed.

CALIFORNIA PROBLEM GRAVE.

President's Stand Makes State Department's Position Difficult.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—With Governor Johnson's announcement today that he would sign the California land bill in spite of the federal administration's appeal for a veto on account of the Japanese protest, it now becomes necessary for the State department to determine whether it will proceed with the negotiations with the Japanese government on the basis of defending and sustaining the right of the Californians to deprive the Japanese of the right to hold real property, or whether it shall conclude that the act violates the spirit if not the letter of the treaty with Japan in the attempt to find means of nullifying it.

In his messages to the governor of California President Wilson expressed the opinion that the legislation is discriminatory, so that the Japanese contention that the act constitutes discrimination in violation of international laws and of the spirit of the treaty is powerfully supported and the position of the State department made difficult should it be found necessary to champion the cause of the Californians. The first thing to be done by the department will be formally to inform the Japanese embassy of Governor Johnson's action. In the ordinary course of the negotiations the Japanese government would reply that as it is prevented by the constitution of the United States from negotiating directly with one of the American commonwealths it must hold the national government responsible for anything which may occur in California to the detriment of Japanese residents.

AUTONOMY IN OUTER MONGOLIA.

Russia and China Said to Have Made Secret Agreement.

LONDON, May 15.—A secret agreement between Russia and China was signed recently, according to the Pekin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, under which China concedes complete autonomy to outer Mongolia, whose frontier has been delineated.

This agreement, which the correspondent says is certain to create a storm throughout China when it becomes known, saves Kobdo and Uliassutai, besides all the Kirghiz country and extreme northwestern Mongolia. Autonomous Mongolia will measure more than half a million square miles, and no such surrender has been chronicled since 1838, when the Port Arthur and Kiao-Chau coups were recognized by treaty.

DIOCESAN CONVENTION.

The diocesan convention of the Protestant Episcopal churches of Rhode Island will be held in Trinity Church Tuesday and Wednesday, May 20 and 21. Devotional services will be held in Trinity Church and business sessions in Ray Chapel or the guild hall. Luncheon will be provided for the delegates on both days in Masonic Hall.

Three meetings of the convention will be open to the public. First, the reading of the bishop's address at 12 o'clock Tuesday in Trinity Church; second, a conference on missions held by Rt. Rev. Sherman of Wu Chang, China.

The following committees have been appointed to arrange for the business of caring for the convention:

Hospitality—Robert C. Cottrell, Hamilton Fish Webster, Peter King, William M. Taylor.

Entertainment—Herbert Bliss, Julius Burdick, William S. Slocum, Andrew K. McMahon.

AS TO RETIRED OFFICERS.

Secretary Garrison to Inform the Senate of Employment in Civic Life.

Secretary Garrison has sent to the Senate his answer to Senator Du Pont's resolution asking for the department's record on the number and employment, both in civil and quasi-military life, of all retired officers of the army. No record is required by regulations of how retired officers are employed in civil life, but Mr. Garrison announced that he had written to all officers and would lay the information before the Senate as soon as available.

In reply to the resolution, the Secretary stated that since January 1, 1908, 177 retired officers had applied for active service and 107 had been detailed, there being no regulation or law to prevent such detail. According to the department's figures there are 1,025 officers on the army retired list, including four lieutenant generals, 23 major generals and 220 brigadier generals. The total pay of all such officers is placed at $3,363,507.50.

The resolution was designed to find if it were not possible to employ many retired officers in work of minor character now done by those on the active list. Action on it probably will not be taken for several months in view of Mr. Garrison's reply.

"Yes, our new wagon's a Studebaker —the only kind we KNOW"
"The Studebaker idea has been in our family for sixty years. We have never thought of buying any other kind of a wagon."
"It's true, we're continually being offered other wagons costing a little less, with lots of promises as to what they will do. But we know in our family what a Studebaker will do. A few dollars difference in price doesn't mean much. It's the service a wagon gives that we consider most."
"Long service for a fair price means more every time than short service for a few dollars less."
"That's why we stick to Studebaker—and 'Stick to Studebaker' is a pretty good motto for a man who uses wagons."
"Studebaker wagons are built of good stuff. They're made right by people who've had years and years of experience in making them right—people who are trusted the world over."
"Studebaker wagons last, because they're made to last."
"Look out for the dealer who tells you his wagon is just as good as a Studebaker. That's my advice after a good deal of experience—and the experience of all of my people. You get a Studebaker and you've got a safe investment."

AMERICA WILL BE FIRST.

The United States to Have Most Powerful Fleet in the Mediterranean in 1914.

The London Daily Telegraph gives prominence in a column article to the European cruise of the American fleet fixed for the early months of next year. During the presence of American vessels in the mid-land sea, says the article, the United States will be the dominant naval power in the Mediterranean. The assembly of ships will represent a far higher standard of fighting power than has ever before been seen in those waters. The British navy, even during the long period of Anglo-French antagonism, never had more than 14 battleships in the Mediterranean, and, at present, the French fleet has only 18 vessels of battleship type in active commission, while Italy has eight vessels and Austria six.

Consequently during the period covered by the visit of these American ships the United States will have the most powerful fleet in the Mediterranean. Its size will indeed completely dwarf the British squadron at Gibraltar and Malta, which, even after the completion of the Admiralty's scheme of re-organization, will comprise only four battle-cruisers and four armored cruisers. This British force, when contrasted with the main fleet of the United States, will appear of almost insignificant size.

The decision of the American government to dispatch a force of such commanding power to the Mediterranean indicates the importance attached to the task of showing the flag in the Old World with a view to supporting American diplomacy. Not only will the cruise have an educative influence on the officers and men of the ships, but it is intended to advertise to the nations of Europe the naval power of the United States, which, contrary to popular belief, possesses the second greatest fleet in the world. This position it will lose when the many German vessels now in hand are completed, owing to the failure of Congress to approve the Navy Department's plans for naval expansion, but at present its position is assured.

In the opinion of the Telegraph the visit of the American ships will have the effect of inducing the British government to modify its present policy of continuous concentration of the naval power in home waters, which many officers consider injurious to the spirit and character of the service.

The paper adds that British hospitality will be extended to the crews at Gibraltar and Malta and probably one Egyptian port.

Little Chocolate Custards.

Allow to each half pint of milk one egg, a tiny pinch of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar, one tablespoonful grated chocolate and a few drops of vanilla. Melt the chocolate over hot water. Heat gradually with the hot milk, add the egg beaten with sugar and salt and turn into cups or a dish. Stand in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm in the centre.

THE CURSE OF CANS.

[Philadelphia Record.]

We are not surprised to learn that the American Can Company made some 2,600,000,000 common tin cans last year. An occasional trip to any point of the country rarely fails to reveal unsightly dumps, blots upon the landscape, where several thousands of these discarded receptacles may be seen in all their ugliness. It seems curious that the inventive American genius has not as yet discovered a way by which old tin cans can be utilized again in their original form and be made to serve a good purpose indefinitely, just as bottles do. Efforts in this direction have been made, but the countless millions of cans scattered everywhere show that the process has not come into general acceptance.

PERSONALS.

—Alfred de Foville, a prominent economist and permanent secretary of the Academy of Moral and Political Science, died Wednesday in Paris. He was 75 years old.

—Word comes across the water that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is to return to the stage within a few weeks. She will probably appear in the London Hippodrome in "Hullo Ragtime" at the end of the month.

—The Spanish premier, Conde Alvaro de Romanones, denies the report that King Alfonso and the German emperor are to meet during the coming summer. Such a meeting was considered significant because of a possible Franco-Spanish military alliance, to which the German emperor is opposed.

—The Norwegian minister in Washington, Mr. H. Bryn, has received a communication from his government announcing the appointment of Mr. Gustave Pormes of New York as a knight of the first class of the Royal Order of St. Olav. The honor is bestowed upon him in recognition of his services in developing the trade relations between Norway and the United States.

—The recent death in St. John, N. B., of Joseph Carey, closed a career regarded as unique by the medical profession of the continent. Carey underwent an operation in Boston six years ago for lung trouble, and part of the left lung was removed. In performing the operation it was found necessary to remove several ribs, leaving the heart practically exposed. The beats of the heart, it was said, could be seen plainly through the thin tissues which covered that organ, and many physicians and surgeons took advantage of the opportunity to study the action of the heart while at its accustomed work in the body of a living man. Carey recovered his usual health following the operation, and had worked daily for the past four years.

Delaware defeated Kansas in the battleship series Wednesday afternoon at Wellington Park, by a score of 9 to 4, Kansas taking the low place in the series. The inability of the Kansas batters to successfully meet Brown's fielding was largely responsible for their defeat. Brown allowed but three hits and struck out five, while the Delaware men made 13 hits, with a total of 17 bases, Brown making a home run. Kansas scored three of its four runs in the first inning on one hit, a passed ball and four errors, but after that the Delaware fielders settled down and played without an error. Delaware also scored three runs in the first, on two singles, a double and two bases on balls. Kansas made its fourth and last run in the second. Delaware tied in the third, and in the fifth took the lead, finishing strong, scoring two runs each in the eighth and ninth. Pike, the Kansas catcher, was injured in the first inning and gave way to Reynolds. The summary is as follows:

The Training Station team made eight hits and three errors, and the New Hampshire seven hits and four errors.

The Squantum A. C. defeated the St. Mary's, 26 to 13. The batteries were Murphy and Sullivan for the Squantums and Sheehan and Bowman for the St. Mary's.

The Young Brownies defeated the Young Giants, 17 to 12. The batteries were Mahoney and Russo for the Brownies and Martin, O'Neill and Croughan for the Giants.

This afternoon the New Jersey and New Hampshire teams play at Wellington Park. Each team has won one and lost none in the battleship series.

THE PERIL OF EASE.

[Edwin Markham, in Nautilus.]

Are you sheltered, curled up and content by the world's warm fire?
When I say your soul is in danger!
The sons of the Light, they are down with God in the mire,
God in the manger.

The old time heroes you honor, whose banners you hear,
The whole world no longer prohibits;
But if you peer into the past you will find them there,
Swinging from gibbets.

So rouse from your perilous ease; to your sword and your shield!
Your ease is the ease of the cattle.
Hark, hark, where the bugles are hailing;
Out to some field—
Out to some battle!

FANCIES.

Love is blind; or at least the little rascal doesn't always succeed in shooting straight.—[Philadelphia Record.

"Ferdy is in financial difficulties!"
"How?"
"Offered his creditors ten cents on the dollar, and they accepted it!"—[Life.

Edith—I can't see why it is that some men will go into raptures over a silly woman.
Marie—Who's been making love to you now, dear?—[Boston Transcript.

"Were your ideas carried out by Congress?"
"Not till I got 'em into print," said the new member. "Then they were carried out in waste baskets."—[Washington Star.

An authority on child culture has discovered that boy babies learn to talk first. That seems quite natural. The girls always want the last word.—[Philadelphia Record.

"Did your speech allay the excitement?"
"I should say so. It calmed several of the auditors to such a degree that they went entirely to sleep."—[Washington Star.

As it sounded: "Of course you know Mrs. Hilbelnte," said the hostess sweetly.
"I remember her face perfectly, but it seems to me that the last friend who introduced me to her said that her name was Mrs. Grdurrzzl."—[Detroit Free Press.

Fellow Guest (who has told humorous artist an appalling chestnut)—Aw——thought you might illustrate it, you know. It happened to my father.

THE END OF THE OPIUM TRAFFIC.

The announcement that the British government will allow no more opium to be sent from India to China this year probably means the end of the opium traffic. That is not directly stated; only this year is mentioned, but that is doubtless the intention.

The English government has been culpable in supporting the opium export of Bengal against the wishes of China and yet it does not deserve all the hard things which have been said of it. If people in China wish to smoke opium they might as well smoke the imported as the domestic article. There has been a large element of protection for a domestic industry in the efforts of the Chinese officials to stop the importation from Calcutta. So long as opium was grown in China the Anglo-Indian government cannot be greatly blamed for refusing to allow a product of India to be excluded from Chinese ports.

Under a recent agreement between England and China the export from Bengal was to cease when the growth of the poppy in China was suppressed, and there were some other restrictions. A date was fixed a few years hence, at which the traffic was to cease. The Chinese government has recently tried to convince the English officials that the decree against opium culture was tantamount to suppression, but it was notorious that the decree was not universally obeyed. Provinces which were demanding the exclusion of Indian opium were producing opium.

The moral sentiment of England has been growing more and more hostile to this traffic and the Chinese government has been showing increased energy in suppressing the domestic industry. In several instances soldiers have been sent to destroy fields of growing poppies. Between the insistence of the Chinese government and the resentment of the English people at a continuance of a traffic which sacrifices the moral interests of China to the financial interests of India the British government has decided to suspend the traffic for the rest of this year, and presumably the suspension will be permanent.

THE RECREANT TRUSTEE.

One of the recent novels, for a time and possibly still a "best seller," turns on the defalcation of a trustee for several private estates, who used the funds in his hands and when the collapse came the families whose property he controlled were left destitute.

Only a few months ago a New York lawyer died confessing that he had spent in speculations the trust funds in his hands and for 15 years had paid the interest or dividends out of his capital, or the capital of the persons whose trustee he was. Only three or four years ago one of the most prominent bankers in Philadelphia shot himself when concealment was no longer possible. He had used the funds of his bank and of estates of which he was the trustee in his own speculations, which had not been successful. In some cases he had for 20 years or more paid the interest of the fund to the beneficiaries, and not till his death did they know that the fund itself was used up long before in the trustee's private financiering.

The very general use of trust companies as trustees is due to the fact that there is less temptation with them than with private persons to embezzle the funds, and there is much more publicity in their business. They are subject to some degree of supervision and whatever is done in a trust company is pretty certain to be known to more than one person. There is no reason why private trustees should not be subjected to an equal degree of supervision. In practice the beneficiaries rarely suspect anything while their interest or dividends are paid to them at stated intervals. Theoretically the trustee makes reports to a court, but a court is not a banking agency or a bank examiner, and in practice the supervision by a court has little restraining effect when the trustee is unfaithful. There have been many cases of embezzlement by a private trustee and it would seem to be time to devise some system of accounting or inspection which will expose the fact of a defalcation in less than 15 or 20 years.

WEEKLY ALLOWANCES FOR CHILDREN.

It is claimed that no child old enough to understand the nature of money is too young to be trusted with a weekly allowance, no matter how small it is. In no other way can he be taught so effectually the value of money and that whatever is too hastily or carelessly spent is gone without adequate return. Habits of economy and judicious expenditure are among the most important things for a child to learn, and giving him a small allowance to use as he wishes, and not allowing him to spend more than this, is one of the best ways for him to acquire such habits. Of course there lurks a danger that the child will become miserly and delight in the accumulation of his money, but this occurs so rarely that the peril is not great. The average youngster has not the saving habit to any great degree, but does soon learn to secure a fair value for his pennies and many times makes a wiser expenditure than is supposed.

There was a time when the children of the wealthy were in danger of being spoiled by having too much money, and of course there are many cases today where parents feel that it is wrong not to let the boys and girls have funds for things which they desire and which they can well afford to give them, but the majority of parents know better than to ruin their children by giving them too much to spend when they are young and so making them extravagant in later life. Today the average child, whether of parents of great wealth or of those in poorer conditions of life, is taught the value and the use of money by having charge of an allowance. At first of course this should be small, but as the child grows the allowance should be increased until the sum is large enough to meet ordinary expenses. In this way he will come to realize the value of money and to what uses it can be put to the best advantage.

It is a good sign of the times that there are comparatively few homes in these days where the children's allowance is not reckoned as one of the regular expenses and a duty to be cared for as much as anything else pertaining to their education and training. Too much cannot be said in favor of this plan, and it is a wise father or mother who begins training a child in the value of money just as soon as he can understand what money means and what he will receive in return for it when it is spent, and so lays the foundation of what will be in later life a great help. Thus knowledge will be gained as to how and when to spend and to save to the best advantage, and the child will contract the habit of economy and judicious expenditure.

The child who knows that he has a certain amount of money given to him which is his own, no matter how small the amount, is generally careful about spending it unless he receives full value in return. A few pennies seem a large amount and a great deal of thought is generally given to the spending of them. It is good training, which every child should have; it not only teaches the value of money, but also trains one to be self-confident, careful and independent. A weekly allowance, no matter if only a penny, belongs to a child by right. He should have it and use it as he chooses, and he will soon learn what it stands for, what he will lose by thoughtless spending and what he will gain by being a little careful.

A material reduction of meat prices in this country is expected as a result of the Argentina beef fight, the shipment of thousands of pounds of frozen beef and mutton from Australia to the United States and the elimination of the tariff on meats in the Underwood bill. Australia is expected to ship 500,000 pounds of meat a month and Mexico will ship many thousands of heads of live animals. Argentina packers will continue their fight against the American packers which has been waged in Argentina to the United States. The consumers will rejoice if this is the result.

The active and most excellent work of the Clean City Committee in reducing the number of flies in Newport will be of little practical avail unless the labors are followed by the committee or authorities inducing every one who has conditions upon his premises which make for more flies to lend a hand in the clean up. We must keep everlastingly at it to accomplish the best success in anything.

The simpleton who is paying an election bet by walking from Portland, Me., to Portland, Ore., can take comfort from the fact that he has to lead only a donkey instead of an elephant or bull moose. The condition of the bet was that the loser should, in walking across the continent, lead the animal emblematic of the victorious party.

WOMAN AND THE BALLOT.

Universal Suffrage Not Necessary to Make Her Equal With Man.

[Illinois Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.]

Male and female are as distinctly specialized in the "pre-historic protozoa" as they are today in the human race. It is nature's way of setting apart a certain percentage of any generation for the specific duty of bearing and rearing the next generation, and so of continuing her work, and of laying the foundations of the higher or moral side of the world's life. The work of continuance and moral upbuilding, which has its foundation in the co-relation of male and female attributes, makes the natural sphere of women fully equal with that of the opposite sex. Woman does not need the ballot to make her equal with man. If she faithfully performs the duties which nature lays upon her and upon her alone, she is not only his equal, but more than his equal. It is as the mother of men that she reigns supreme. To lower this attitude by claiming for her a material equality is to reduce her from a powerful and beneficent necessity, to a weak and lamentable copy of the original type which she was so wisely and beneficently segregated, and is evidence in itself of the influence of socialism, which alone of all theories of social reform, as publicly advocated, contends for such change.

As a proof that without the ballot women are to a good degree, and increasingly, fulfilling their true destiny, we instance the progress which has been made during the last decade in the pursuit of the domestic arts and sciences, in the care and proper upbringing of children, in the regulation of the hygienic and moral conditions in our schools, and in bringing to light and commenting upon the evil and vicious social theories, which have so long hidden themselves from the public view, and many other needed and valuable reforms. In all these lines of progress women have been either the originators of public beneficence, or its faithful and untiring helpers.

The public part of this work has not been, could not have been, done by the universal suffrage of all women, young and old, wise and foolish, indifferent and thoughtful, as it has been done by voluntary or appointed officials, chosen from the ranks of tried and experienced women, upon whose judgment and unselfishness the public has learned to rely, and the reason that as a rule they stand higher in the world's estimation than the average man, is that they do not represent the universal element of politics, but are in themselves a selected and specialized class, peculiarly fitted in the eyes of the public for the duties to which they are appointed.

DOUBLING HUMAN LIFE.

[Richard Barry, in Century.]

In 1866 the public health conditions of New York were in so low a state that the average length of life of the inhabitants was 30 years. In 1912 these conditions had been improved so that the average length of life was 66 years. Thus the value of human life, reckoned in terms of time alone, had more than doubled in less than half a century.

Woman's Auxiliary of Episcopal Churches Holds Monthly Meeting.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The Woman's Auxiliary of the parishes of St. Mary's and the Church of the Holy Cross held its monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Weaver, West Main road. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. J. Alton Barker, and the religious exercise or service of intercession for missions was under the direction of the rector, Rev. F. W. Goodman. Reports were given of the work of the Junior Auxiliary by its director, Mrs. Phoebe E. T. Manchester, and of the recent meeting which she attended in Providence of the Representative Council of Junior Leaders. Mrs. Harold R. Chase, treasurer of the "United Offering," gave her yearly statement, which was deferred from last month, showing a total for two years of $15.50. The mite box collections, taken in March and September, represent a free-will offering made at the time of some especial blessing. Miss Emma Chase was appointed secretary of the Church Periodical Club.

A well-written letter in English was read from Tiagara, Alaska, from a former interpreter to Mr. Goodman, which was circulated for inspection. It was dated January 14, and was received by the rector April 30.

Extracts from the life in Japan of a missionary were read by Mrs. Weaver from Frances Little's book, "The Lady of the Decoration," and Mrs. Gertrude Wilbor gave a prepared paper on "Saintly Music," St. Ignatius and St. Cecelia being especially mentioned.

The following delegates were appointed to attend the quarterly conference to be held in Edgewood May 29: Miss Annie Abmy, Mrs. J. Alton Barker, Mrs. Kate Thurston and Miss Charlotte Chase.

It was voted to send $10 to the state as the auxiliary apportionment.

Mrs. Manchester, having been appointed in April to present monthly the current events from the "Spirit of Missions," gave an interesting summary of the past month. Of especial importance as showing the attitude of the new republic of China was the asking that a day of prayer be set apart in America. This was done in April.

Announcement was made of the meeting of the State Junior Auxiliaries to be held at Holy Cross Chapel May 24, when their yearly offerings will be presented.

At the close of the meeting the members adjourned to the dining room, where tea was served.

Moving fires in shrubbery after dark caused some alarm until it was discovered that they were on poles, and were used to burn caterpillars' nests.

The recent cold snap is thought to have caused damage to the more tender plants. Ice was reported a quarter of an inch thick last Sunday morning.

A rude framework, with pump attachment, has been set up in the brook on Oliphant road opposite Gypson, that the watering cart may be filled for the repair work on the East Main road. The roads are greatly in need of oil, the heavy top layer of dust being continually lifted by the fast-moving automobiles passing over the main thoroughfares.

Mr. James H. Barker is sending to Kingston this week 28 heifers, which will be turned out to pasture for the summer. All have had small metal tags put in their ears for identification.

One of the fences on upper Third Beach road bridge has fallen into the stream, and a similar occurrence will soon take place at Wyatt bridge if it does not receive attention. These places are dangerous after dark.

GEORGE R. HICKS, Clerk.

LITTLE COMPTON.

Contest Over Will of the Late George Church at Session of Probate Court.

The town council of Little Compton held its regular session in the town hall. The probate business was taken up first. The will of George Church was proven and admitted to probate, and Elmer S. Chace of Providence was appointed administrator. The petition of Ernest Wilbur, a minor, to have his brother, Benjamin W. Wilbur, appointed guardian was granted, bond being fixed at $300. The petition of the heirs of George Tompkins to have Betsey Tompkins appointed administratrix was granted; bond was fixed at $2,000. John Taylor was appointed administrator of the estate of John T. McKenzie.

The town council then sat. Bills of the month were ordered paid. John Pierce declined to serve on the board of assessors. No one was chosen in his place. Licenses were granted to sell fruit. Philip Wilbur, town treasurer, was authorized to borrow $2,000. Supervisors were chosen for the town meeting June 3, as follows: Republicans, John Hunt, Henry Athington; Democrats, James Burlingham, Lester Seabury. Clarence Gray was appointed special officer for the day. The Council then adjourned.

The important business before the probate court was the admitting to probate of the will of George Church. As was expected, a contest developed. Attorney Harvey of the law firm of Harvey & Sheffield appeared for the petitioners, asking for the probate of the will, while Mr. Collins of Providence opposed. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Peckham, witnesses to the will, were sworn. They testified that it was 16 years since the will was made, and that they were unable to remember any of the details. However, they were sure that the signatures were theirs and that the will was signed by the testator. After arguments by the attorneys, the council voted to admit the will. Mr. Collins objected to the appointment of George Brewster as administrator, and suggested Mrs. J. W. Coombs, to whose name Mr. Harvey objected. Elmer Chace, a Providence attorney, was finally appointed. It was stated that this is only the opening of a series of lawsuits, the next step being a suit to recover back the money claimed to have been deeded away by Mr. Church when he was 93 years old.

The case is the result of the finding of an old and forgotten will of Mr. Church that had been for 16 years in the town clerk's safe. Later Mr. Church made other wills and destroyed them, finally disposing of his property by deed, shortly before his death.

Beatrice Kelley has received her commission as postmistress for the town.

Mrs. J. G. Dutton of Westerly, is the guest of her son, Rev. C. J. Dutton.

The weather is generally fair, although with some cloudiness, in the South and in the Far West, and the pressure is generally near the normal. ANOTHER POLICE SHIFT.

Day Men First on New Assignments; Second Call to Merchants.

The police had another shift round this morning, the day men being the first to go on the new assignments. Some persons thought the new officers must have lost their way, but this was not the case. They all went on their beats, but they had to go after them to see in what shape they were, and this meant they did not go the usual time in the usual round the usual time in a day or two. It will be all right in a day or two. The new arrangement is as follows:

Beat 1—Day watch, Casey; first night, Newton; second night, P. D. Sullivan.

Beat 2—Day watch, Eckhart; first night, Sagrue; second night, E. C. Sullivan.

Beat 3—Day watch, McMahon; first night, Coggeshall; second night, W. C. Baker.

Beat 4—Day watch, Shea; first night, Bliven; second night, Taylor.

Beat 5—Day watch, McCormick; first night, Gentile; second night, I. J. Tucker.

Beat 6—Day watch, Sweeney; first night, Kain; second night, C. S. Sullivan.

Beat 7—Day watch, Boreson; first night, Hamilton; second night, Allen.

Beat 8—Day watch, Ring; first night, Esleeck; second night, Gregory.

Beat 9—Day watch, Weaver; first night, Ray; second night, Ackers.

Beat 10—Day watch, Dugan; first night, Cooney; second night, Scott.

Beat 11—Day watch, Watson; first night, C. A. Wilcox; second night, Buckley.

Beat 12—Day watch, Leeson; first night, Farey; second night, Dewick.

Beat 13—First night, Palmer; second night, Segerson.

There is no day man for the last beat, which is sandwiched in between those of the regular beats.

The instructions were given all the officers to again notify storekeepers not to display any goods, wares or merchandise on the sidewalks. This is a second, and, it is stated, a "last call" and any violations are to be reported to the station and will be followed by prosecution. While generally the dealers have lived up to the first call, just to keep the sidewalks clear, some could not do it. It was not their fault, they wished to have some advantage over their neighbors who did not use the sidewalk for display. Therefore a second call is sent out before more drastic action is taken.

MONUMENT TO IDA LEWIS.

Erected in Old City Cemetery and Obtained by Miss Dewick's Efforts.

The Ida Lewis monument, which was secured by popular subscription through the efforts of Miss Mary Dewick, a high school girl, was placed in position over the grave on Tuesday morning, in the old City cemetery on Farewell street, close to the main driveway and under the shade of beautiful shade trees—an appropriate resting place for one of such fame. The monument is of rough waterly granite, and has the following inscription:

Ida Lewis
The Grace Darling of America
Keeper of Lime Rock Lighthouse
Newport Harbor
Born Feb. 25, 1842
Died, Oct. 24, 1911

Erected by Her Many Kind Friends

Above this inscription, in bold relief are an anchor and two oars crossed. The monument cost $200, and was made by B. A. Stanton of Boston.

It will be recalled that shortly after the death of Mrs. Wilson (Ida Lewis), Miss Dewick, who had been an intimate friend, started to secure a popular subscription for the erection of a suitable monument to this heroine of many daring rescues. At times the project seemed most discouraging. It would have disheartened many an older person, and it must be remembered that Miss Dewick was then only in her teens of age. She stuck to the task courageously, however, notwithstanding her school lessons which she had to prepare and other duties which must be done, and last summer, when her schoolmates were enjoying their vacations in various ways, Miss Dewick was planning ways and means of adding to the monument fund, often walking a long distance to call on a prospective subscriber. Now that the monument is erected one of her chief desires—that the stone might be in place by Decoration Day—is realized.

BACK FROM THE WEST.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdick and Mr. Kennan Report Pleasant Time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Burdick and Mr. Asa B. Kennan have returned from their trip to the West. Mr. Kennan was left at Phoenix, where he met Mrs. Kennan and the Burdicks remained three days. Thence they went west, stopping at the Grand Canyon three days in Los Angeles, also in San Francisco, visited the Yosemite valley, put in two days in Portland, three days in Seattle, one week in Salt Lake City and Grand Rapids, and parts of days in a number of other cities, so that they had a good opportunity to see the country. The weather was fine, and they had a very pleasant time. In San Francisco Mr. Burdick saw Mr. J. Stacy Brown, and in Seattle met Mr. Charles S. Packer, both formerly of this city. The latter is doing well in the real estate business of his new home. In Chicago Mr. Kennan was met and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Burdick home.

A WEEK OF GOOD THINGS.

First Presbyterian Church to Celebrate Its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

The First Presbyterian Church of this city will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary next month. Sunday, June 1, will be Anniversary Communion Sunday, when the service will be in charge of the pastor, assisted by Professor William Brenton Greene, D. D.

June 8 the noted "Sky Pilot" of the lumber jacks will speak at both services, and a treat is in store for all as Reporters Mr. Higgins will come from the Presbyterian General Assembly, now in session in Atlanta, Ga., and will go direct to Toronto, Canada, to speak at a mass meeting of men gathered from all parts of the Dominion.

On Wednesday night, June 11, will be held the anniversary prayer service, which will be addressed by Rev. Charles A. Fisher, moderator of the Presbytery of Providence, and Rev. L. M. Conrow of New Bedford.

Thursday the anniversary banquet will be held, with speakers from Boston. A representative of the local clergy will also speak.

Friday night will be Young People's night, and a good time is being planned for the younger members of the parish.

SOME FISH SHIPPED.

First Mackerel Seiners of the Season Arrrive; Small Scup Brought In.

Some fish was shipped from Newport last night, 345 barrels of scup being sent to New York and 50 barrels to Philadelphia, and about 100 barrels of mixed fish also going. From Tiverton came 168 barrels by train, and from Block Island 118 barrels, and there were some from Sakonnet Point which went to Fall River and came down on the boat. Probably over 800 barrels in all went, of all sorts of fish. Today there is no shipment except a few barrels of sea bass and mixed fish.

The first mackerel seiners of the season arrived this morning, when three came in. The first was schooner Clintonia, with 1,500 big mackerel which ran 50 to the barrel and then found the barrels rather small. Following her came the Pinta and Arthur James, the former with 8,000 and the latter with 1,000 mackerel. These, however, did not measure up to the "whales" the Clintonia had, for the barrels were marked from 120 to 160 fish, showing a big drop in the size. This was a disappointment to the mackerelmen, who like to see the big fish some way ahead of the smaller ones. A few were brought here, where only big ones are desired; the rest were shipped to Boston.

C. B. Anderson is putting in another trap. He hauled today to secure some squid for bait for a codfisher in the harbor, and caught some of the smallest scup seen here in some time, measuring about four inches in length. These are the annual run of small scup into the bay for feeding, and show that there will be some scup fishing up the bay this fall.

John Sousa, Jr., the Second beach, had a big weakfish today, weighing 11 pounds. This is the second of the season of any size. C. B. Anderson has caught a number of small ones, that do not count.

Fishing schooner Margaret Haskins, Captain Rube Cameron, was in Wednesday on her way to the mackerel grounds, now south and west of here.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—White lilacs are in bloom.

—Father John F. Sullivan of Providence is visiting his sister here.

—Mr. H. J. Gammell, who returned from Europe last week, opened his house today.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. A. Clarke have arrived at the Warren cottage, on Narragansett avenue and Clay street.

—Mr. P. J. O'Neill has sold for Mr. I. J. Josephson his estate and buildings on Dresser street to Mr. Nicholas Hinson.

—Auxiliary steam yacht Aloha left for New York Wednesday night, leaving a sort of "aching void," at Sullivan's dock.

—Mr. and Mrs. Behrends and daughter, who have been visiting Mrs. Behrend's mother, Mrs. Brownell, have gone, en route to Germany.

—Persons who went out Wednesday evening without top coats preferred to walk rather than patronize the street cars, because they found the air had a decided chill and open cars were run.

—The Holy Cross base ball team defeated Seton Hall Wednesday, 5 to 3. Ralph O'Connell and Gilmore, both known here, each made two hits for Seton Hall, which made a great try for the game at the end.

—All but two of the trusses at the convention hall were in place Wednesday night, and much of the dome of the structure had been framed in. It will be but a short time before the structure can be covered.

—Messrs. DeBlois & Eldridge have rented for Mr. James J. Rooney his cottage on Rhode Island avenue to Mrs. Julia M. Sands for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Rooney will again occupy a cottage at Renfrew Park.

—The Skidoo skate party attracted a very large number to the Rollo rink Wednesday evening, and every pair of skates was in use. In view of the increased attendance, Manager Soreiro has decided to give an extra session this evening.

—A whaling schooner from New Bedford is due here Saturday to haul out at the shipyard, where also schooner yacht Ozanna, formerly Kirin, and steam yacht Hope are due to haul. A new bowsprit is being built for the Ozanna at the yard.

—The petition of the heirs of Miss Eudora M. Tompkins of Adamsville, Intestate, to appoint Miss Betsy Tompkins of this city as administratrix of the estate has been granted, and the bond fixed at $2,000, Mr. Edward A. Brown being the surety.

—The mayor and the inspector of police were seen last night riding around in an automobile. Every one who had a chance to do so saw them and wondered what was "up." No official report has been given out other than they took a spin to see how the landing places for the sailors looked at night, with the lights on.

—All the police could offer in the way of news this morning was the search for a lost boy, about three and one half years of age, who strayed away Wednesday when sent on an errand and was finally found asleep on Van Zandt avenue and returned to his parents by the police. The little lad proved to be quite a traveler.

—Weenat Shassit Tribe of Red Men voted last evening to accept the invitation of Rev. E. H. Porter, D. D., to attend divine service at Emmanuel Church Sunday evening, the occasion being their twenty sixth anniversary. It was also voted to employ the Fort Adams band for the marching between the hall and the church.

—Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs is shipping seven carriages to Brewster, at Long Island City. Mrs. Oelrichs has not used her carriages for several years, having given her attention exclusively to automobiles; but it was reported last fall that Mr. Herman Oelrichs was going to put the carriages into commission and was going in for show horses, in which he has taken considerable interest.

—Mrs. Woodward, wife of Mr. William Woodward, a well known Newport summer resident and president of the Hanover National Bank of New York city, was cut by glass and badly bruised when the brougham in which she and her husband were riding was knocked over on its side by an automobile at Madison avenue and Seventy-ninth street, New York, Tuesday evening. Mr. Woodward escaped with a few bruises.

ENGLISH TEAM ARRIVES.

Polo Players, Fine Looking Men, Hope for Success in Lifting Cup.

England's team of polo players, which will make an attempt to lift the international challenge cup from its American holding by the Meadow Brook four in June, arrived in New York Wednesday evening on the Oceanic, of the White Star line. In the party were Captains R. G. Ritson, A. Noel Edwards, Vivian N. Lockett and Leslie St. George Cheape, and F. M. Freake, who will act as reserve in case any of the regular men become incapacitated. Captain Edwards and Mr. Freake were accompanied by their wives. All are big, upstanding fellows, and with the exception of Mr. Freake, are cavalrymen in His Majesty's guards and dragoons. One admirer who met them on the pier remarked: "They look like the magazine pictures of heroes, don't they?"

Captain R. G. Ritson, who is to play the position of No. 3 and act as captain of the team, when pressed to predict the probable outcome of the matches said: "Of course it is my first visit to America, and I hope it will be a successful one. So far as the ponies are concerned, I do not believe that the mounts could be improved upon anywhere. In this respect we are better equipped than was Captain Hardress Lloyd's team that tried to lift the cup two years ago. As for the players, I'm a bit skittish about expressing an opinion, for we shall miss Walter S. Buckmaster, and there has been a lot of hit-and-miss criticism in England. I'll put it this way, however: We haven't as good a side as we had two years ago, and still we are hopeful."

Captain Ritson said that the probable line-up of the team would place Captain Cheape at No. 1, the position he played in the memorable matches of 1911. Captain Edwards would take his position at No. 2, the same as two years ago, when he rode so valiantly through the openings made by Captain Cheape and Captain Hardress Lloyd to tally eight of the nine goals scored for the British side. Captain Ritson will play at No. 3, while Captain Lockett will hold the position of back, where he hopes to check the Jersey thunderbolts which Devereux Milburn, the American back, hurls through the field as he charges after the ball.

THREE HOURS BY AUTO.

Animal Circus Brought From Whaling City and Unloaded at Colonial.

R. Archie Perkins, formerly stage manager of the Newport Opera House, came here this morning from New Bedford with one of his big automobile trucks, transporting the animal circus which is billed for the Colonial Theatre. The big truck was filled with crates of animals and the animal room at the theatre was taxed to the limit to take in the outfit. The Whaling City was left at 7 o'clock this morning, and in less than three hours the circus was unloading at the theatre here. The late City Sergeant Westcott used to tell how he took Edwin Booth after playing here to New Bedford to open his next engagement, but that was by horse-drawn vehicle. Since the coming of steam theatrical productions have been making the roundabout journey, which in the present instance would have taken much longer and considerable shifting of a large amount of material.

When the big automobile with the farmyard arrived, many spectators gathered to watch the unloading, having had their attention attracted by the barking of dogs, crowing of roosters, mewing of cats, squealing of pigs and chatter of parrots. The chorus of noises was enough to attract the attention of everybody on the street, and considering the way these handsome creatures have to be crowded into narrow boxes, just large enough for them to move round in, it is not surprising that they howled to get out. A little later, back of the theatre, they were liberated for exercise, and the sight was well worth witnessing.

THE GEORGIA HERE.

Joins the New Jersey in Upper Battleship Anchorage.

Battleship Georgia joined the New Jersey of the Third division on the upper battleship anchorage early this afternoon. The ship came from the Boston navy yard, where she has been since her return from Mexican waters. Flagship Virginia of the division is still at Boston. It was just after 1 o'clock that the Georgia came steaming in through the channel and when abreast of Fort Adams she began firing a salute to the flag of Rear Admiral Badger, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet. The Rhode Island, another of the division, is having speed trials on the Rockland course.

The Montgomery is being coaled this afternoon, tug Ontario being engaged in towing the coal barges to her.

Captain A. P. Niblack, who has been relieved of duty as naval attache of the American embassy in Berlin, will be assigned to the command of one of the battleships of the Atlantic fleet during the summer. On his return to Washington he will be detailed temporarily for duty in the Naval Intelligence Office until a battleship command is found for him. Lieutenant Commander Walter R. Gherardi will succeed him as naval attache at Berlin.

SWINGING SIGN TAKEN IN.

A spot on Thames street was illuminated for a time Wednesday evening by a mercury lamp projecting several feet out from a building, and several persons who have been desirous of putting out projecting signs were disposed to call this such, though there was no lettering. The police took the matter up and held a conference with the proprietor, who, instead of interviewing his lawyer and saying things about the city having no rights above the traveled way when the individual citizen desired to do things, promptly took in the swinging sign.

Union Pacific Railroad Company Devises New Dissolution Plan.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The San Francisco Chronicle publishes the statement today that the Union Pacific Railroad Company has devised a new plan for the dissolution of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific and is prepared to submit it to United States Attorney General McReynolds. It is probable, says the newspaper, that the plan will be laid before the California railroad commission, informally, within a few days, in order that a prior understanding with the commission may be reached before the details of the plan are made public. It is stated that the Union Pacific seeks principally the purchase of the Central Pacific.

It is stated that the Union Pacific is willing, on certain conditions, to withdraw its previous demand for any exclusive privileges over the Southern Pacific property, thus opening the way for the Western Pacific and Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe to claim a share of the business on the Benecia short line, and a share in the use of the Industrial tracks thereon. In devising the new plans, however, it is said that the Union Pacific cuts down its offer for the Central Pacific by approximately $12,000,000. Its original offer was $103,000,000.

Chicago, with 6,397,692 parcels, led all other cities in the amount of parcel post business done in April, while New York city, with 6,252,378 parcels, was second; Boston, third; Philadelphia fourth; Cleveland fifth and St. Louis sixth.

They immediately set to work on their investigation of the economic conditions prevailing among the agriculturists of Tuscany.

Captain Alexander who was at stroke in the race against Harvard and Princeton, was sent to No. 7, while Madira, who rowed No. 7, was moved to bow.

—Major Frederick L. Bullard of New York has rented Cottage No. 3 and Mr. William C. Ridgway, also of New York, Cottage No. 2 at Renfrew Park for the season. Messrs. Bullard and Ridgway occupied these cottages last year, and come again to Newport because of their thorough enjoyment of their season then. Mr. Ridgway, who is a prominent lawyer in New York city, writes very enthusiastically of Newport's attractions as a summer resort, and the great pleasure he anticipates in his second season here.

—The marriage of Miss Nellie Grant, daughter of Jesse R. Grant of San Francisco and Santa Barbara, Cal., to Lieutenant Commander William Piggott Cronan, U. S. N., took place today in San Francisco. Miss Grant is a granddaughter of the late General U. S. Grant and a niece of the late General Frederick Dent Grant. Lieutenant Commander Cronan commands torpedo boat destroyer Jouett, attached to the fifth group of the Atlantic torpedo flotilla; and will bring his bride here after a short leave for his wedding trip, which will include a run across the country from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

CHANGES IN TARIFF BILL.

Senate Committee on Finance May Make Amendments During Consideration.

Some Democrats Do Not Like Idea of Placing Themselves in Antagonism to the President.

[Washington correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Senate committee on finance, while not giving hearings to those who want to have changes made in the Underwood bill, is giving such attention to the measure as indicates that changes may be made before it is reported to the Senate. During the consideration of the tariff bill in the House the Republicans were constantly pointing out what they called inconsistencies and inequalities, and it was said that the Senate would have an opportunity to make quite a number of amendments in order to make the bill symmetrical.

But it is not these little changes that concern the Senate so much as real changes, like the proposed restoration of a duty on wool or eliminating the free sugar provision. If these changes are made it will mean a direct contest with the administration. While there are Democrats who want to make the changes, they do not like the idea of placing themselves in antagonism to the President.

Many Congressional observers are speculating on what might have happened had Joe Bailey remained in the Senate. The Underwood bill, with its many free raw materials, is in direct opposition to what Bailey claimed was Democratic doctrine, and he would have made a hard fight against the bill as it passed the House. There are few Democratic Senators who believe with Bailey save those whose states produce raw materials, and they have practically abandoned the idea of a duty on raw materials in view of the overwhelming support of the Democrats for such an enlarged free list.

While the high cost of living occasionally was mentioned in the House tariff debates, very little attention was paid to it. The men who think about such things have come to the conclusion that the high cost of living has been chiefly due to the fact that people are spending a great deal of money and buying a lot of things that were once considered luxuries and now believed to be necessaries.

When the Senate meets at noon it usually wants lunch about 1 o'clock, and it finds an easy way. Some Senator wants to make a speech, and he starts reading it. The Senators slip away and in an hour or more come back and resume business. There are several Senators who are perfectly willing to make speeches under such conditions.

Congressman Moore of Philadelphia offered an amendment to the tariff bill to reduce the duty on playing cards from 60 to 50 per cent.

"Does the gentleman use playing cards himself?" asked Jim Mann.

"Not at all," replied Moore.

"If he did," continued Mann, "he would know that the cost of cards does not cut much ice—at the end of the game."

"I suppose," said Harrison of New York, "that the gentleman from Philadelphia, when we reach poker chips, will offer an amendment to make blue chips a luxury and white chips a necessity."

Congressman Donavan of Connecticut was one of the few Democrats in the House that occasionally "kicked over the traces" during the tariff debate. Once he took a shot at Majority Leader Underwood, who was driving the bill along. Underwood remarked that Donavan "had wandered away from the Democratic side of the House."

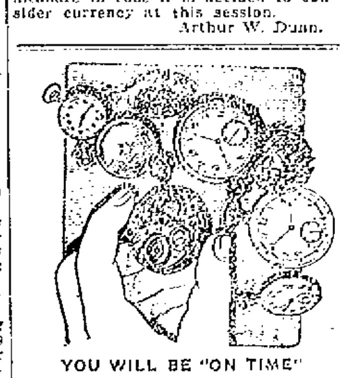

"I find," retorted Donavan, "that this great expert at repartee is one of the cleverest members that ever came over the pike, but when you undertake to pin him down and ask him an abstract question he turns it over to some other member." And Underwood smiled and pushed the bill ahead a few notches.

Senator Gallinger does not take kindly to the idea that currency legislation should be pushed at this session. "We have one great subject which is going to engage the Senate for two months and make trouble enough," said the New Hampshire Senator, "to say nothing of the trouble it will give the country hereafter, and I do not think we should take up another big subject, which will keep us here till snow flies."

"It may be that the tariff is going to make trouble," remarked Senator Bacon of Georgia, "not only during its consideration, but hereafter, and if that be true we ought to be ready to do any good we can in a compensatory manner."

It is the intention of the Democrats of the Senate to prepare a currency measure in case it is decided to consider currency at this session.

REACHES THE AGE LIMIT.

Brigadier General Frederick A. Smith of Fifth Brigade Retired.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Brigadier General Frederick A. Smith, in command of the Fifth army brigade, doing patrol duty on the Texas border, was retired today for age. He was born in New York and was appointed to the Military Academy from that state, reaching the grade of brigadier general in 1908. He fought against the Indians on the western frontiers, in Cuba and the Philippines. He remained in the islands until 1903 when he was assigned to duty with the general staff here.

MEMORIAL TO FORMER DOCTOR.

Leon Blan Hospital, Gift of Late J. Pierpont Morgan, Dedicated.

AIX LES BAINES, France, May 15.—The Leon Blanc Hospital, given by the late J. Pierpont Morgan to the city of Aix Les Baines as a memorial to his former physician, Dr. Leon Blanc, was formally opened today by the mayor in the presence of representatives of the French government, of the Red Cross Society and of a number of medical organizations. A gold medal, which was to have been given to the late Mr. Morgan, was received by his nephew, Walter Burns, and by Henry P. Davison, who was a partner of the late financier.

IN CASE OF A VICE CONSUL.

Helplessness of Government to Succor Citizens in Distress Depicted.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—A tragedy of the tropics, depicting the helplessness of the United States government to succor its citizens who meet with misfortune in foreign countries, was revealed in correspondence made public today by James T. Dubois, United States minister to Colombia, who has just returned to this country. The correspondence told graphically of the death of Vice Consul Frank L. McKernan, at Bogota, from tropical fever. McKernan left a widow, a young daughter and his aged mother destitute. A message to the State Department brought word that while the department would pay the expenses of shipping the body home, there was no fund to cover the traveling expenses of the family. The plight of the family was relieved by an American steamship company providing them with free passage to New York.

How It's Made.

The L. & M. Semi-Mixed Real Paint is a pure paint. One thousand pounds of pure White Lead, Zinc and Linseed Oil are put together in an immense mixer; then large mills grind it, and machines fill it into cans ready for market. But the user adds three quarts more Linseed Oil to each gallon to make 1¾ gallons of Real Pure Paint for $1.40 per gallon. It is the very highest quality paint.

A "CURE"? FOR BALDNESS

The above expression is one which is used frequently in connection with hair preparations. Just exactly what is meant by it in each instance is a question. Baldness is not a disease and hence, does not permit of a cure. It is a result invariably to be traced to the dandruff germ and if the condition has become chronic, that is, if there is complete atrophy of the hair follicles, a "cure" is absolutely impossible.

Approaching baldness, seen in falling hair, may always be checked and if the hair follicles are not atrophied the hair may be induced again to grow.

This is accomplished by regular applications of Newbro's Herpicide which cleanses the scalp and kills the dandruff germ. The destruction of the germ does away with the accumulations of scarf skin and thus eliminates the most common enemy to beautiful hair.

Soft, glossy, fluffy hair cannot grow on a scalp infested with dandruff any more than a delicate plant can grow on an ash heap. The scalp must be kept clean and free from dandruff. The best remedy for doing this is Newbro's Herpicide which receives the highest endorsements from professional men, the stage and the best people everywhere.

Herpicide is sold and guaranteed in one dollar size bottles by all druggists. Applications obtained at all first-class barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Address The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., enclosing 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet.

"Meet Me at Barney's"

Attracting Much Attention.

The new oak Woodbury Piano, now shown in our window, is attracting much attention and favorable comment from all who see it. "The neatest and handsomest case I have ever seen,"—is what we hear said.

The case, however, is but one point of superiority in the

Woodbury Piano

—its responsive action—doubly re-enforced frame construction and smooth, mellow tones are other points which distinguish this piano as the leader among all moderate price instruments.

Be sure and see it—stop in and hear it, too.

Ladies' Association of St. Paul's Church Meets at Guild House.

(Regular correspondence of The News.)

The Ladies' Association of St. Paul's Church held its regular meeting at the guild house Wednesday afternoon and evening. The work of the afternoon was the making of articles of sale for St. Paul's lawn party, which will be held July 16. At 4 o'clock the president, Miss Hattie C. Anthony, called the business meeting to order and Miss Abby S. Anthony, the secretary, read the report of the last meeting. It was decided to lay on the table for the present the matter of building an addition to the guild house for kitchen purposes. The present kitchen is in the basement and the dining room on the first floor, making it hard work for those who serve suppers.

It was decided to hold a supper at the guild house May 28, the principal dish to be strawberries. Considerable time was spent in working out the details.

At 6 o'clock an excellent supper was served, the menu being escalloped quahaugs, cold meat, hot rolls, spiced pickles, a variety of cake, and tea and coffee. The committee consisted of Mrs. Wilbur C. Wheeler of Bristol Ferry, her daughter, Miss Lillian Wheeler, representing her; Mrs. David B. Anthony and Miss Harriet Frances Sanford.

At 7:30 the company adjourned to the home of the Misses Hicks, where Rev. Anson B. Howard gave the concluding Bible lesson of the season.

The vestry of the Christian Church has been broken into, entrance having been made through the kitchen window and a large number of articles stolen, among them knives and forks, mugs for tea and coffee, plates, cups and saucers, several tablecloths and many napkins, as well as a variety of other table furnishings. The floor was besmirched.

The supper and entertainment given last week by the Girls' Sewing Class of St. Paul's Church netted $40, which was a fine showing for their first attempt in this line.

Miss Annie Hathaway has returned from a visit to Brockton, where she was guest of her cousin, Mr. Arthur Willings, and family.

The surf ran so heavy last Saturday that fishermen were unable to attend to their traps and lobster pots off Seaconnet point; hence a dearth of lobsters for Sunday dinners.

WILL SOME ONE EXPLAIN?

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Dear Sir: A barber found quietly doing business in his shop on the second floor of a building Sunday was arrested, haled to court and even put in the lock-up until he was able to secure bail. How about the hundred and one stores of all kinds about the city that are doing business seven days in the week, with Sunday their biggest day? Will some one please explain the difference?

PLANS WELL IN HAND.

Various Committees Report Progress on Memorial Day Arrangements.

The Memorial Day committee held another meeting in Grand Army Hall Wednesday evening, when the various committees reported the arrangements well in hand. From the Newport Artillery there was received an acceptance of an invitation to act as special escort to the Grand Army. Commander of the line James H. Hampton announced that he had appointed Major Herbert Bliss, U. S. V., as adjutant of the day. As to aids he said he had made no appointments for he found that the charge for saddle horses is now $5, and he did not care to go ahead without the approval of the committee. He was told to provide for as many aids as he required. It was announced by the committee on carriages that an automobile had been secured for the members of the committee who are to flag and decorate the suburban graves. Comrade Pritchard, for the music committee, announced that it had been found necessary to secure some organs and altos for the choir, which had been originally figured on, but he would look out for this before he left Newport, so that all would go on as if he were here.

TROJANS NOT WORRYING.

Attleboro Team Confident of Winning the Contest in Newport.

The Attleboro team is confident of winning the opening game with the Trojans, judging from the statement of Manager Sodoroski, which recently appeared in an Attleboro paper. He states that his team is a few points faster than the Trojans, as it stands, and he is confident of defeating the Newport team with his present aggregation. It is also his intention to strengthen up for the game at Newport May 25, and thus clean up the series in two contests. The Trojans have never faced any of the fast teams of southern Massachusetts, yet the locals are not worrying, as they figure that they never looked bad even when playing New England League teams, and cannot figure how Attleboro can be any faster than the Leaguers.

The game at Attleboro Saturday should tune the Trojans up for the game here Sunday with Allen Langley's Providence Collegians. Two of his players, Ormsby and Dunn, worked out Wednesday in the Brown Freshman-Morris Heights game, each having two hits and a great deal to do with winning the contest. Allen believes his team will give the Trojans a stiff game at least, and is really looking for a victory. He knows the ability of the Trojans, and with the material he has at hand he should be able to pick a team which should make the Trojans go the limit to win.

NEW YORK, May 15, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper at 74⅛, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 99⅜, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 89⅜, Canadian Pacific 237¾, Erie 28¼, Interborough Metropolitan 11, Interborough Metropolitan preferred 49¾, Missouri Pacific 34⅞, Pennsylvania 110¼, Reading 159½, Rock Island 19⅜, Southern Railway 24¾, Union Pacific 148⅜, United States Steel 59⅜, Lehigh Valley 153.

10—Stocks were under pressure at the opening today. Almost without exception the active issues ranged under yesterday's close. The heaviest losses were sustained by Cotton Oil, which fell 2 points and Canadian Pacific, which receded 1¼.

11—Reading was suddenly bid up a point, causing the market to reverse its course. Prices did not hold well on the rally and by 11 o'clock the list was below the opening figures. A break of 4¼ in American Cotton Oil weakened other fertilizer shares.

Noon—With buying power reduced to a minimum, bear traders undertook a series of selling movements. Their operations were not on a large scale, however, and they accomplished little outside of a few obscure issues. Eagerness to cover at advantageous prices induced occasional rallies, but there was little in the movement to encourage active speculative operations. The announced intention of the governor of California to sign the alien land bill was cited as one source of caution on the part of traders in entering on new commitments. Bonds were steady. THE REAL NEWPORT.

Publicity Bureaus Should Have Information for Would-Be Visitors.

It is often said, though seemingly believed by few Newporters, that away from Newport this place is looked upon as a city where only the very wealthy can enter. As supporting the contention that Newport should promote an active campaign to advertise itself as it is, as almost every other place is doing in this modern age, the following from the Los Angeles, Cal., Express of May 5 may be an argument to those who study the situation:

"Not even the glory of Newport redeems Rhode Island, for to the state itself Newport means the fashionable rich of America and of the world, and their many servants, displaying themselves for show, but producing nothing—certainly not producing a new generation to sustain the power of the state."

Two days after this was printed the same paper announced that there is being formed a Rhode Island Society at the home of the state societies in that city. A local business man, who believes there is need of setting Newport aright in the eyes of the people of the country, if the business of the stores of the city is to prosper as it should by increasing the trade from a larger number of visitors, thinks that through the announcement of the formation of such a society there is the opportunity of circulating the kind of literature with which a publicity bureau of this city should be supplied, to carry the message of the real Newport to the people who would like to come here, but who honestly believe they are barred by exorbitant prices and social conditions.

AMERICAN TEAM SELECTED.

McLoughlin, Williams, Hackett and Little Officially Nominated.

Maurice E. McLoughlin of California, R. Norris Williams of Philadelphia and Harold H. Hackett and Raymond D. Little of New York were officially nominated Wednesday as the American lawn tennis team for the Davis International cup matches against the Australians. The selections were announced after a meeting of the American committee, which included R. D. Wrenn (chairman), H. W. Slocum and G. T. Adee.

The news was cabled to the English Lawn Tennis Association in London and a telegram was sent to S. N. Doust, captain of the Australian team, now playing at the Huntington Valley Country Club, Pennsylvania. The combination will stand for the matches which will be played on the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club in New York city June 6, 7 and 9.

McLoughlin stands as No. 1 on the ranking list, and holds the national championship in both singles and doubles, as well as other important titles.

Williams is now at Harvard. He was the sensation of the past season, ranking No. 2 to McLoughlin. His chief victory was the winning of the national clay-court championship at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association meet.

Hackett's record as a doubles player has never been duplicated on the American courts. He was rated three times with different partners last season. He has held the national title, and at times all the other important ones.

Little was rated No. 8 in singles last season. He has figured in other international cup matches and was also rated in the doubles with Hackett, with whom he has been playing steadily this season.

BLOCK ISLANDERS PUSHING PILOTAGE CASE.

The protest of Block Islanders against the action of the captain of the Georgian Prince in taking Pilot McDonald of this city instead of Pilot Milliken of Block Island has proceeded further than a verbal one, and a libel has been placed on the steamer in Providence for the pilotage claimed by Pilot Milliken. There was no trouble in obtaining a bond, and the steamer was released so that Pilot McDonald brought her down Wednesday. If Captain Tal Dodge perseveres in his protest and carries the case to the courts there will probably be some interesting developments.

A CREDITABLE PERFORMANCE.

"Bul Bul" Given With a Snap and Vim Remarkable in Young Amateurs.

Teachers' Retirement and Rogers Athletic Funds Will Receive Material Increase.

The Rogers High School scholars have again shown that they can do things, in musical entertainments as well as in athletics, and the presentation of the comic operetta "Bul Bul" in the Assembly hall Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Teachers' Retirement Fund and the Athletic Association, the first of two performances, was a thoroughly creditable one. The principals and choruses, the stage carpentry, the construction of the electric lighting and the stage itself were the work of the Rogers scholars, under the direction of Mr. Henry Stuart Hendy, the teacher of music, Messrs. Fred W. Johnstone, Fred H. Webber and Louis R. Chase and Misses Luella Allen, Ruth M. Franklin, Lucy P. Brownell and Margaret O'Hanley of the school's corps of teachers, as well as Head Master Thompson and Sub-Master Stevens, gave considerable time to a general supervision of the work.

The stage was made by enlarging the regular platform of the hall so that a greater depth was secured, and a proscenium arch, with a drop curtain of red, added materially to the presentation. The electric lighting was arranged by Stedman Ward, Walter B. Clark and Ivan S. Coggeshall and worked excellently. Miss Marian Blaine was the accompanist, and her part of the work was a feature of the performance, her playing being accurate and effective, assisting the principals and chorus very materially in their singing. Mr. Hendy conducted the operetta, and at the conclusion was warmly congratulated on all sides for the successful performance.

As to the operetta itself, "Bul Bul" has little plot and nothing out of the ordinary in construction, but there is enough to give a setting for a number of tuneful solos, duets and concerted numbers. The costuming is simple but attractive, and the choruses are full of life and are given with a pleasing swing. The entire production is most creditable, especially when one considers that but one of the principals has appeared in public performances before, and that one in a small part in a similar production given last year, and that practically every member of the chorus was new to the stage. There was a slight evidence of nervousness at the beginning, but that soon wore off, and before the end of the first act everybody had become accustomed to the surroundings and the performance went with a snap and a vim remarkable for amateurs, and particularly young amateurs.

While all the principals did well, the best work was done by Miss Mabel Simpson and Mr. John A. Allan, the princess and prince of the cast. Miss Simpson was especially pleasing as Princess Bul Bul. Her personality and grace gave her a charming stage presence, and her singing was of a very high order. Her first solo, "Love is a Flower", was pleasing, but her second, "Croon, Silver Moon," was decidedly one of the best things, if not the best, in the performance. Her duets with Mr. Allan, "Love is Such a Funny Thing" and "Land of Delight," were worthy of all the commendation they received. Mr. Allan has a strong voice, which is well handled, and he shared the honors of the evening with Miss Simpson.

Mr. W. Norman Sayer as Iamit, the king, was capital in make-up, dialogue and solo work. His comedy acting was clever and his song, "A Mild-mannered Monarch," very well rendered. Miss Elizabeth A. Hoyle, who took the part of Ida, the court chaperone, was also clever in her comedy work, and sang her numbers in a fine voice, which, while not strong, is sweet and well handled. Miss Gwendolyn P. Ferrin as Lilla was good, in her songs and as leader of the chorus. Mr. William A. Martland as Alain, a friend of the prince, acted exceedingly well, and his singing of "A Soldier's Song," was one of the hits of the evening. Mr. Henry S. Wheeler as keeper of the royal spectacles and Mr. Arthur Puddington as keeper of the royal cash box did acceptable work, introducing some capital comedy, which took well with the audience.

While all the chorus work was well done the scene in which the "soup peddlers and soldiers" was especially good. The maids of honor were the Misses Marie E. Perry, Suzanne D. Chase, Esther Sweeney, Jose M. Dwyer, Dorothy M. Koehne, Florence M. Plummer and Sarah A. E. Peckham, and the peddlers, Messrs. Michael P. Pinto, Harold L. Peckham, John B. Goodrich, James C. Powell, Alfred W. Edwards, Carl Bugholt and Robert M. Taylor.

In the second act a minuet was danced by the Misses Prunella Wood, Susan H. Sherman, Suzanna D. Chase and Gwendolyn P. Ferrin and Messrs. Henry S. Wheeler, William A. Martland, Harold L. Peckham and John B. Goodrich, in which the movements were executed in excellent time and with all the courtliness of the olden days.

The audience filled every seat in the hall. During the evening home-made candy was sold, finding patrons enough to exhaust the supplies. After the operetta there was dancing in the gymnasium, where Hodgson's orchestra played popular music and many participated until midnight.

There has been a large sale of tickets for the performance this evening, and the funds of the Teachers' Retirement Fund and the athletic association will be materially increased.

The will of Hugh Dudley Auchincloss, who died last month in New York, has been filed for probate in the surrogate's court in that city. Mr. Auchincloss left $7,500 to the Presbyterian Hospital to endow a bed in memory of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Auchincloss. He made a number of bequests to his employes, including $1,000 to Mr. John Mahan, who has charge of the Auchincloss estate, "Hammersmith Farm" in this city, and $500 to Captain Harry L. Martland, who has charge of Mr. Auchincloss's boat in this city. He also gave $1,000 each to Mary Reilly and Vincent Scully, and $300 to Mary Scallon. Aaron A. Quinby, a friend, receives $2,500, and a similar amount was left to the Kingsley Trust Association of New Haven Mrs. Emma Brewster Auchincloss, the widow, is residuary legatee.

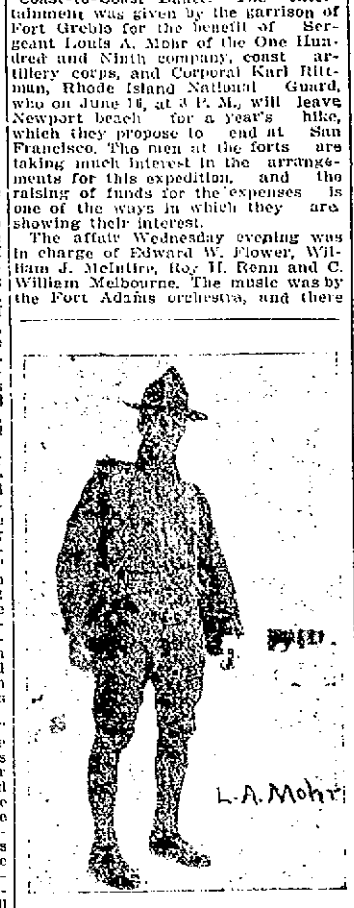

A COAST-TO-COAST DANCE.

Fort Greble Garrison Gives Benefit for Men to Leave on Long Hike.

Sergeant Mohr Talks of Purpose of the Trip and Some of the Details as Planned.

The State Armory was the scene Wednesday evening of an enjoyable gathering, which was featured as a "Coast-to-Coast Dance." The entertainment was given by the garrison of Fort Greble for the benefit of Sergeant Louis A. Mohr of the One Hundred and Ninth company, coast artillery corps, and Corporal Karl Rittman, Rhode Island National Guard, who on June 16, at 3 P. M., will leave Newport beach for a year's hike, which they propose to end at San Francisco. The men at the forts are taking much interest in the arrangements for this expedition, and the raising of funds for the expenses is one of the ways in which they are showing their interest.

The affair Wednesday evening was in charge of Edward W. Flower, William J. McIntire, Roy H. Renn and C. William Melbourne. The music was by the Fort Adams orchestra, and there were 18 dances on the program, which were enjoyed by a large party, including many sailors from the fleet. The program was a complimentary folder containing the cards of many business houses, which took this way of showing their support to the undertaking.

During the intermission the dancers were assembled and had their picture taken by flashlight, after which the two hikers were introduced and Sergeant Mohr spoke of the purpose of the hike and told some of the details of it as planned. The purpose is to acquaint people who know little of the army with the fact that it is a good place for the young man of the day, and that it is in no manner a place for the "undesirables," as many suppose it to be. Sergeant Mohr said the coast artillery corps in particular requires men of ability because of the technical complications of modern guns, which require level heads and men of brains to train. The men in the forts along the coast, he said, form the bulwarks of the nation against a foreign foe, and the other branches of the service are their supports in time of war.

It is the purpose of the two men on their hike to show by their conduct the type of men the army needs, and by their talks and stereopticon views to give a better understanding of the life of the soldier. By views they expect to show the routine of the man in khaki from the time he gets up in the morning to the time he goes to bed at night. Sergeant Mohr said that while he was not so intimately acquainted with the navy, he had had an opportunity to see something of it, and in his belief the same high standard of men was required there, and he expected to tell the people in the interior of the country things about the navy which would give them a better understanding of it and of its needs than could come to their attention through the usual channels of information.

Leaving Newport, the two men will proceed via Aquidneck avenue and the East Main road to Fall River, and thence take the trip across the continent. As Sergeant Mohr was telling of place after place they will pass through, and about the time he had detailed the route to the Mississippi, a sailor was compelled to give vent to his feeling, and he said, "Oh, Lord! What a tramp!" Sergeant Mohr will carry the new army pack and regulating rifle, while Corporal Rittman will wear the familiar army roll, which is now due to be discarded. They will be attired in regulation uniforms, and prepared to take things as they come, just as if they were campaigning.

The Coast-to-Coast dance committee met with the same experience which other committees have had this year. Up to Wednesday morning the quartermaster general had not issued orders for them to occupy the armory. The legislature had, as in other cases, granted permission to use the building, and the legislators handling the bill had in each case notified the applicants that permission had been granted. The quartermaster general, on the other hand, delayed giving orders until formal request was made to him for the use of the structure. That such was to be required after the legislature had acted none suspected, and hence up to the day of the dances there was worry because it seemed as if the dance might have to be called off at the last minute.

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN MEETING.

At the Board of Aldermen meeting tonight the matter of crushed stone for the city promises to again come up. This is a subject which has been talked about for some time and it was supposed that it was settled; but someone says a thing is never settled until it is settled right. There are others who think it is already settled right. Bids will be opened for building new bath houses and for erecting and removing the polling booths for the special election. There is no telling what else will come up; there never is for a meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

ROGERS LOSES FIRST GAME.

Local Team Shows Best Play of Season, but Is Beaten by Attleboro.

St. George's Continues Winning Streak—Delaware Defeats Kansas—Other Base Ball.

The Rogers High School base ball team lost its first game to a school team Wednesday afternoon, when Attleboro High School defeated the local team at the Civic League lot, 5 to 4, Attleboro winning the game in the ninth inning. The umpiring was not generally satisfactory, and what is considered the umpire's poor judgment lost Rogers two runs. The umpire also treated Attleboro unfairly. The Rogers boys scored their four runs in the first three innings, and were unable to cross the plate again, while in the fifth the victors scored two, with two more in the seventh and the winning run in the ninth.

It was a good game to watch, and was the best Rogers has played this year. The work was quick and snappy, and Rogers's new infield worked well together, with the exception of a few errors which came at a bad time. Attleboro had what seemed a more experienced team than Rogers, but started off with a second-string pitcher, and it was from him that the home team scored its runs. White, who relieved him, was much steadier, and Rogers secured only three hits from him in six innings, while Wendell was found for three in his three innings. Cremin was in the box for Rogers, and pitched a good game, allowing six hits and striking out 12 men; but his support when he needed it was lacking.

Up to the seventh inning it seemed as if Rogers had the game safely packed away, as with the score 4 to 2, and taking into consideration the way in which the team had been playing, victory for Attleboro did not seem bright. However, in the seventh two men got on, through a hit and a base on balls, and then Manchester hit for a single and scored the other two men.

With the score tied, Rogers in the next two innings tried hard to obtain a lead, but it was of no use. A double play stopped chances in the seventh, and with two out and one man on in the eighth Tubley fanned. Attleboro put over its winning run in the ninth, by one hit and two errors. The first man was out, Arnold to Connolly, but Pinto let Gilbert get on through an error. Becker hit a single to left, and Gilbert went to third, and on a poor throw by Martin reached the plate and scored.

It was one-two-three for the Rogers men in their half of the ninth, although Arnold reached base. Wilks flied out to centre, and Cremin fanned. Arnold came to bat and launched a hit to right field, and it looked like a sure out, but the fielder dropped the ball. Arnold was safe at first, but tried to reach second and was thrown out from the field.

Arnold played a good game at shortstop, and was a leader in batting, with a double and two singles. The Attleboro catcher, Flanigan, played a fine game for his team, and, although he badly hurt his fingers, kept in the game and steadied his team well. The score:

St. George's School continued its excellent playing against school teams Wednesday by defeating the Stone School team of Boston, 10 to 2. Powel pitched a splendid game for St. George's, allowing only two hits and striking out six batsmen, giving but two bases on balls. Willard struck out 10 of the St. George's batters, but was hit hard at times when hits counted for runs. Bush made a home run, the only extra hit of the game. St. George's, as has been the rule this year, secured a lead in the early part of the game, making five runs in the first and second innings and four in the fifth, when Bush's home run sent in three others ahead of him. Stone School made only one run in each of two innings. Powell's pitching and the fielding of Buchanan and Curtis for St. George's and of Conant for Stone School were the features of the game. The summary is as follows:
